

POLICE COMMITTEE WILL RECOMMEND TEST FOR POLICE

Police Committee Recommends Adoption of Plan Suggested by Chief of Police to Give All Officers An Examination.

At a meeting of the Police committee of City Council held last night, Chief of Police Harry A. Ort presided. A recommendation that all policemen be given an examination before they are elected to office and that they be required to make a grade of more than 80 per cent. on that examination to qualify for their office.

Chief Ort, in his communication, charged that the police were at present inefficient in that they were not properly enforcing the city and state laws. He called particular attention to the city traffic ordinance and the state prohibition law as not now being properly enforced. His recommendation was that the present members of the police force be given an examination on the state and city laws and general knowledge about the city and that if they do not make the required grade of 80 per cent. on their examination they be dismissed for incompetency. He also recommended that those who apply for the position of patrolmen, be given such a test and those elected who are enabled to qualify through this examination.

The police committee endorsed Chief Ort's recommendation and will recommend the adoption of such a plan to council as a whole at their next regular meeting.

GOOD CROWDS AT THE REVIVAL SERVICES

Second Week of Methodist Revival Opens With Good Audience—Strong Sermon Preached.

The second week of the revival at Third Street M. E. Church started off last evening with the best interest of any service thus far. To the surprise of everyone present there was a fine audience for such a disagreeable night. The surprise at seeing so many present gave new inspiration to Rev. Overley who preached the most stirring sermon of the meeting. And it had its effect upon the congregation as many asked for prayers.

All are encouraged at the outlook for the week and are confident that if the spirit of last night's service prevails during the week the revival will be a splendid success. Remember the service each evening begins at 7 o'clock. The days are precious and the meeting will be over soon. Don't fail to grasp the wonderful opportunity to hear the gospel and to profit by the spirit of the revival.

DRUNKS DISTURB PEACE OF THE EAST END.

A company of five drunks disturbed the peace of the citizens of East Second street Monday evening. Their yelling and howling could be heard above the wind and the language used was terrible. Although the drunks were in the space between Lexington street and Limestone bridge for considerable time, the police were not disturbed.

JOINT BUYING OF TOBACCO IS AS- SAILED IN REPORT

Report of Commission of Its Probing Of Leaf Tobacco In Kentucky Presented to Congress.

Washington, Dec. 14. — Three recommendations for changes in the present system of buying and selling tobacco are contained in a report of the Federal Trade Commission submitted to the House of Representatives Monday in response to a resolution of Representative W. J. Fields, Ninth Kentucky District, calling for an investigation of the markets and market conditions, especially in 1919 and 1920. The recommendations are:

First — That the provision relating to the use of common agencies by the defendant companies in the purchase of leaf tobacco which expired by litigation November, 1916, be revived and made permanent.

Second — That the provision relating to the defendant companies doing business under any other than their own corporate name or that of a subsidiary corporation controlled by them be made specific so as to include the purchase of leaf tobacco through agencies not disclosed to the trade.

Third — That a Federal system of grading leaf tobacco be established by the Department of Agriculture.

The authority to establish such a system, the report points out, apparently has been given that department under Section 19 of the United States warehouse act. The commission believes, the report says, that this would tend to stabilize market values under abnormal conditions such as prevailed during part of last summer.

Further consideration of possible violations of the Clayton act will be given by the commission. Evidence of the possible violation of the decree entered in November, 1911, as a result of the dissolution suit, will be made available to the Department of Justice at an early date.

Under this decree the tobacco "trust" was dissolved into four large companies, the P. Lorillard Company, the American Tobacco Company, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company and the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Probably the most important change that has taken place in the industry since the dissolution of the combination has been the formation of the Universal Leaf Tobacco Company. The report points out. This agency has acted as agent for and sold tobacco to most of the large interests.

The commission obtained data concerning prices paid for all types of tobacco, and compiled these in a report covering about 550 pages. After a study of the data it reached the conclusion that the decline is attributed to three factors. These factors are:

First — Lessening of foreign purchases due to unfavorable exchange rates, and the contraction of domestic credits resulting in unfavorable financial conditions.

Second — Increase in quantity of low grades for domestic absorption due to crop conditions and falling foreign markets.

Third — Purchasing methods of large buyers.

"None of these factors alone can be assigned as the controlling or predominant cause of price decline," the report states. "For instance, while the same purchasing methods as were used during 1919 appear to have been followed the preceding years since 1915, there was an absence of effect on prices in those years such as is now under consideration. Nevertheless, certain of the methods are a resumption of practices which were prohibited during the five years prescribed in decree, because they were unlawful."

"There is no uniform system of grading leaf tobacco. This operates to the disadvantage of both buyer and seller, especially the latter."

"Prices to dealers of most brands of manufactured tobacco have been increased during the past year, but for brands upon which information was obtained the increase has not been out of proportion to the increased leaf cost. The prices paid for the majority of grades of leaf tobacco used by the large tobacco manufacturers during the last year were somewhat higher than during 1918-19, and considerably higher than for 1917-18."

"Prices paid growers for the better grades of Burley and certain of the dark Western types last season also compared favorably with prices prevailing during the 1918-19 season. After the opening of the season in most of the sections producing dark Western and Burley types, prices for the common and low grades suffered a decline, and in some sections before the end of the season became demoralized. The decline in the prices for the dark fired tobaccos was the most marked."

"As a whole the average price for Burley was about the same as for the 1918 crop, while for most dark West-

KENTUCKY WOMEN VOTERS TO ORGANIZE

Equal Rights Association to Disband and League of Women Voters To Organize.

The Kentucky Equal Right Association will cease to be and the Kentucky League of Women Voters will be born at a nonpartisan convention of women voters in Lexington Wednesday afternoon.

More than three hundred women, representing every county in the state are expected to attend. Mrs. John G. South, of Frankfort, vice president of the Equal Rights Association, will preside. She has been acting president of the organization since the death of Mrs. Madeline McDowell Breckenridge.

The convention was called November 27, when a number of representative women of the state met at a luncheon here and made plans for the gathering.

The present program calls for the convening of the meeting at 2 o'clock by Mrs. South. A motion for the dissolution of the organization will then be in order. If the motion is adopted the mass meeting will proceed with the formation of the Women Voters' League.

The National Women Voters' League has taken the place held by the National Equal Rights Association before the enfranchisement of women.

Miss Alice Lloyd, of this city, is a member of the Executive Committee which will organize this league.

ern types, it was considerably less than for the preceding season."

The report contains evidence in support of its recommendation that the provision prohibiting the use of common agencies by the defendant companies in the purchase of leaf tobacco be revived. This evidence, much of it in the forms of letters written by officials of the companies, indicates also that the companies were purchasing through representatives believed by the growers to be independent of the large companies.

VOGEL PROMISES SOMETHING NEW IN MINSTRELS

Famous Old Minstrel Troup Comes This Season With Something New For Entertainment.

Amusement lovers of Maysville are promised something decidedly new and novel in the entertainment line when John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue comes to the Washington Opera House on Christmas day. In the past Manager Vogel's offerings have been of the superlative order, and his conspicuous success and popularity has been due largely to the many innovations he has introduced, as well as to the general excellence of his productions.

This season Mr. Vogel is offering a production replete with novelties that are proving immensely popular with audiences everywhere. The performers are all artists in their several lines, many of them having appeared in some of the largest theatrical companies in the country, and individually and collectively, their work is of the highest order. There is an abundance of humor of the infectious sort in John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue. Laughs abound and there is not a dull moment in the entire elaborate program. Delightful music is furnished by the augmented band and orchestra of accomplished musicians.

The scenic investiture is out of the ordinary for a production of this kind, being quite elaborate and greatly enhancing the beauty of the performance. The past performances of John W. Vogel are sufficient guarantee that his present offering will be of the highest order of excellence and local theatergoers are fortunate indeed in having an opportunity to see John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue.

Best of all; the boy who has a Gilbert Set, soon finds out a lot of things that most boys know nothing about. JUDGMENT FOR GROWER AGAINST TOBACCO BUYER

Jury In Mason Circuit Court Finds for Plaintiff in Suit Over Crop of Tobacco Purchased By Chas. Farrow.

A jury in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon returned a verdict giving the plaintiff judgment for $426.16 less $100 previously paid by the defendant, in the case of Halfhill vs. Farrow.

This was a very closely contested case and attracted considerable interest as it involved a deal between grower and buyer of a crop of tobacco. The plaintiff sold his crop of tobacco to Mr. Charles Farrow for 27 cents per pound to be delivered at the local tobacco market. Upon its delivery Mr. Farrow refused to receive the tobacco claiming that it was "fat stemmed" and was not in the condition which the plaintiff agreed in the contract to deliver it. The tobacco was sold over the looseleaf floor and brought 18 cents per pound.

Following the sale, this suit was brought asking judgment for the difference in the price the tobacco brought and the price Mr. Farrow purchased it for and Mr. Farrow filed a counter claim, claiming that had the tobacco been in the condition it should have been, he would have made a profit on its sale.

HIGHER SALARY BRINGS OUT CANDIDATES.

There is a vacancy on the local police force and it is understood that there are several candidates announced for the post. At the regular meeting of Council no candidates except the old officers could be found but the increase of the patrolmen's salary to $90 per month seems to have brought out the candidates.

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

CONGRESS TO COME INTO ITS OWN.

Mr. Harding's speech to the United States Senate on December 6th was an assurance to Congress and to the people that the election to the Presidency of one who had served in the National Legislature was a wise proceeding. The keynote of the President-designate's short address is to be found in his declaration:

"When my responsibilities begin in the executive capacity I shall be as mindful of the Senate's responsibilities as I have been jealous of them as a member, but I mean at the same time to be just as insistent about the responsibilities of the executive. Our governmental good fortune does not lie in any surrender at either end of the avenue, but in the co-ordination and co-operation which becomes the two in a great and truly representative government."

No intimation of a "Senate oligarchy" is to be found in such a clear-cut statement, which, on the other hand the address breathes the determination to do away with the dictatorship under which this country for eight years has been laboring. "I like the freedom, the association, the patriotic sense of responsibility which abides here," asserted the speaker. "I am conscious of the great place which Congress holds under our Constitution, and particularly sensible to the obligations of the Senate," and he followed this with the expression of "the wish of a colleague for the confidence and co-operation of the members of this body in the four years which begin next March 4th."

Something of a similar attitude of mind was indicated by the Democratic party when in its Platform of 1912, on which the present chief executive was elected, it was declared:

"We believe in the preservation and maintenance in their full strength and integrity of three co-ordinate branches of the Federal Government—the executive, the legislative, and the judicial—each keeping within its own bounds and not encroaching upon the just powers of either of the others."

But within a very short time after his inauguration, Mr. Wilson had reduced the Democratic Congress to such pitiful subservience that it has been rightly named a "rubber stamp Congress," and whatever his majority might say of him in the cloakrooms, they jumped at the crack of his lash. The consequences of his despotism were visited on the nation. Ours became a one-man government. There was little Congressional co-operation with the executive, but much sullen assent to his commands, a great deal of shifting of responsibility to his shoulders, which meant laws miserably framed or accepted as worded by an Administration whose acquaintance with the nation's needs was derived from books or lacking altogether. Hence the legislative mess in which the country finds itself today.

Nor did Mr. Harding neglect the opposition: "I am sure that the necessity of wise solution will inspire us to work together, to take common counsel, to be tolerant of one another and give the best which is in all of us to attain the ends which become our Republic at home and will maintain its high place among the nations of the earth." Admitting that there could not always be agreement, he hoped to find common ground in the spirit of service, or, as Tennyson puts: "But for some true result of good, all parties work together."

The President-designate's remarks were an earnest of better understandings between the two branches of government. It is safe to predict that Mr. Harding's administration will go far toward vindicating the belief that men trained in the National Legislature are best equipped for the responsibilities of chief executive.

FALSE PRIDE; FALSE SELF-RESPECT.

Learning that there were many thousands of idle workmen in Detroit, Mayor Couzens offered a thousand jobs at street cleaning and other municipal labor at what used to be a fat wage. Here is Couzens' report:

"Of 265 jobs at street cleaning, paying $6 per day, and garbage collecting, paying $6.50, which the city offered, only eight were accepted. The unemployed apparently don't want jobs; they want positions, while Detroit editors conclude that, after high wages in automobile factories, Detroit's 75,000 unemployed are 'too proud' to do ordinary public labor."

Whereat a great editor, with the city slant on things wrote:

"It is well for mankind that men who formed a mighty army in a great factory, associating with better fellows than ever before, standing higher socially and in their own self-respect than ever before should rebel in pure pride against rolling a garbage can or chasing street refuse in a gutter for $6 a day, or any other wage."

And yet the farmer does exactly those same things every day in his barn and his feed lot and in his fields, and he does them with pride and self-respect. Would it be well for mankind if the farmer refused to clean out the cattle stalls every day or twice a day? Would it be well for mankind if the farmer, through pride, refused to trudge in mud and dirt behind the plow and cultivator, following the example of the city workmen who declined to work on the streets?

It would not be well for mankind; mankind would starve from the face of the earth.

The trouble is that there is too much false pride and too much false self-respect among all the other false things in our cities. Hauling garbage to the incinerator and cleaning the streets is a good deal more important work so far as humanity is concerned than working in an automobile factory, and the men who do those jobs should have pride in the knowledge that they are accomplishing the necessary in this world of people.

NO DONATIONS.

St. Louis Times — Wiping out interallied war loans is being as persistently advocated now as a few months ago. America's debtors may repudiate their debts, if they desire to assume that disgrace, but there will be no donation of $10,000,000,000 of American taxpayers' money to our late associates in the war.

Springfield, Mass., was probably the first American city to choose a woman as city physician. In 1872, when twelve masculine M. D.'s were contesting for the office, friends of Dr. Sarah J. Williams offered her name as the thirteenth candidate, and she proved to be the successful one.

Mount Pleasant, Iowa, bred and educated the first woman ever admitted to the bar in the United States.

Queen Mary is credited with being the most economical queen in the whole history of England. Under her careful supervision such a thing as waste is said to be absolutely unknown in the royal household.

The first woman ever appointed collector of internal revenue was Mrs. S. M. Parker who received the appointment in the Fourth Indiana district in 1873.

The hymn, "Nearer, My God to Thee," which has probably touched more hearts than any other composition, was written by a woman, Sarah Gowler Adams, of London, who died in 1849.

Canada has given many prominent actresses to the American stage, among them Julia Arthur, Margaret Anglin, Viola Allen, May Irwin, Rose Stahl and Marie Dressler.

The first public movement in America toward the systematic training of women for teaching was the normal school opened at Lexington, Mass., in 1839.

Why?

Many persons wonder why they have to pay 40 or 50 cents, or more, for the beef they buy when live cattle are only 10 or 15 cents a pound.

In the first place, we average only about 1/2 pound of meat from the pound of steer for which we pay 10 or 15 cents. Only part of the other half consists of such by-products as hides, oleo oil, tallow, etc. — the remainder is waste. And the return from by-products just now is very small. Hides and fats as well as many other items are down to pre-war prices.

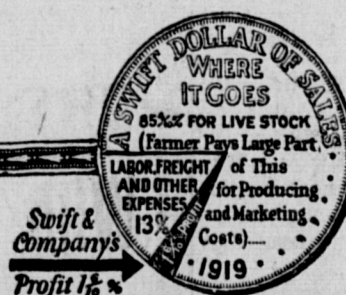

In the second place, there are not many pounds of the kind of meat for which you pay 40 or 50 cents, or more, in the entire animal. Sometimes the retailer has to sell a lot of the meat he buys for about what he pays for it, because you and your neighbors pass by certain cuts and insist upon the other choicer cuts, such as steaks, etc.

Necessarily, he must get enough for these choicer cuts to make up for what he loses on the less popular ones, such as soup meat, etc.

The difference between the final retail price of the finished meat product and the first cost of the live steer is less than it is for most farm products.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.

Why Should Tobacco Be Graded By the Growers at Home?

FIRST—Because the Warehousemen cannot get enough experienced Tobacco men, they have to employ men who work at other trades, such as Carpenters, Painters and Engineers for nine months in the year and never see tobacco until it comes on the Warehouse floor.

SECOND—A Load of Tobacco with all the grades separated carefully can be unloaded and put on Baskets at the Warehouse door in one-half the time, and the Grower will get back home much quicker than ever before.

THIRD—The Manufacturers' Buyer has argued for years, that Tobacco should be graded by the Grower, not by inexperienced Labor at the Loose Leaf Warehouse.

FOURTH—The large Loose Leaf Market, such as Lexington, never have graded Tobacco for the Growers.

FIFTH—It does not save the Warehousemen any Labor, as they will continue to furnish men to unload each wagon as heretofore.

SIXTH—Who has always gotten the HIGHEST PRICE for their Tobacco? The Grower, who takes the most pains stripping, who sorts it himself, brings it to the Market, just as he wants it put on the Basket and sold.

SEVENTH—We are glad to say, We will have more buyers than ever. We will keep Tobacco moving quicker, and give Growers better service, and will be as always the Market of Northern Kentucky and Ohio.

Progress and Efficiency

We are anxious for the business and accounts of all, but we do not want you to think of us simply as a place to deposit your money.

It is our aim to give to our customers the most correct, helpful, prompt, progressive, efficient and up-to-date service possible.

The leading Banks of the country have adopted the plan of supplying their customers with statements and this new plan seems to be working much more satisfactorily than the old system. Under the old system, a customer must leave his book to be balanced, which requires time and makes it impossible to immediately re-deliver it to them. Under the new system there will be waiting until tomorrow or next week before getting a full statement of your account. It, together with all your cancelled checks, will be ready for you any time you call. This means an additional convenience and saving of time to you.

We will continue to issue pass books to all depositors and keep the accounts of those who wish same in the old way, our sole object being to serve our customers to their best interests and in the way they wish us to.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York.—The king business still thrives in some parts of the world and the American girls who have looked prince-ward for romance need not entirely give up hope. Frederick Dean, of West 104th street, has an announcement to pique their interest. The son of a missionary, he used to play marbles many years ago with the royal father of Rama VI, Siam's progressive young king. While Rama was in school in Rugby, Paris and Heidelberg, his father, then reigning, selected a few hundred of Siam's fairest for the next royal harem. Great was the amazement throughout the kingdom when Rama on his return home, announced that there should be one queen and nobody else in his palace and that one should be an American. Now, according to Mr. Dean Rama VI is ready to find that American queen.

The "highbrows" have considerable pep, after all, according to one vaudeville scout. He has friends who live next to Mario Archer Chamble, the Metropolitan Opera's latest find. One night he heard the tenor practicing. "Say—who's that?" he demanded. "He'd be a big riot on big time." On learning that the potential riot already had made a successful debut at the Metropolitan he was downcast. "Just my luck!" he mourned. "Those highbrows always get there first."

Brooklyn manufacturers are considering the forming of a big mutual insurance company to provide workmen's compensation insurance for all the big factories of the borough. More than 250,000 employees in Brooklyn factories make it a sufficient piece of business to have spread disturbance of mind throughout the regular insurance companies of the city. It is accepted as the most startling business news that has come out of Brooklyn in many a month.

Delysia, the French charmer who has become more or less of a fad in New York, dared a good deal even for a favorite the other night. A group of smartly dressed people arrived—late—with seats in the front row. And they talked until the star decided to try some new lines. She stepped forward a foot and said, "I am sorry that you must talk throughout our play. Perhaps it is my fault if I am not sufficiently entertaining, but, while I do not mind, I am afraid the rest of the artists do. Besides, there are others in the audience who want to hear us. You see we can't all talk at the same time." Then she smiled sweetly, the talking stopped, and she resumed her part.

Individual rights are certainly at stake. "In fact, it's got so a fella ain't got any rights in this country at all any more," cries Cecil Crawford, who has lived eight years of life and ought to know. Cecil went shopping the other day. At first they treated him jocularly. Then when he produced a "roll" which proved to be $60, my gracious, they took him to the police station. Finally his mother was found and explained quite simply that she had given him the $60 and that it was to be used as he was trying to use it. And after all that, they freed him from jail only to take him to the Children's Society, because of "improper guardianship." Cecil and his mother are equally puzzled. Only Cecil is a bit more vociferous in his perplexity.

Frank McEntee insists that one cannot be tragic without pointing one's finger dramatically; and that as an exponent of tragedy, his career was ruined entirely when a Pullman window clipped off the very end of his index finger. Accordingly, he asks $25,000 damages. "The foremost roles of Shakespeare" are his only forte, he explains, and that as he has "for ten years appeared in them in the leading theaters of the United States" he cannot let go unchallenged this accident which "has broken the symmetry of the hand so essential in such foremost parts."

Among the trainers and exhibitors at the Canary Show of America is Joseph Hamisch, who began life as a trainer of tigers. Now he is as busy as can be teaching canaries to sing and talking through the sides of the glass tanks to the goldfish. "Just never could give up this life of animal training," he declares. "There are 1,000 of these canaries here and sometimes when they all get to singing, I kinda miss the tigers." The show is being held in 86th street near Lexington avenue, and it's a pretty low concert all the time.

SEPARATE TREATY VOTE SAYS SENATOR MOSES

Congress Will First Take the League Covenant From Document in Denial of Wilson Dictum

Washington, D. C.—Sweeping economies in the administration of the War Department will be brought about by the Republican Congress during the present short session of Congress, according to Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, the chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs.

The economies are to be worked out in the Army Appropriations bill and in riders which will be attached to other appropriation bills. These will direct the War Department to do certain things, and in part will transfer the control of certain definite policies from the administration end of the government to Congress.

While no announcement was made as to cooperation by Democratic members of the Military Committee, it is known that before making the announcement Senator Wadsworth had a long and friendly conference with Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, ranking Democratic member of the Military Committee, and chairman of the committee during the war.

Among the important things which Congress will insist upon the War Department doing are the following:

Leasing or sale of the huge port terminals now owned by the government around New York, particularly on the Brooklyn and Jersey waterfronts, at Boston, Norfolk, Philadelphia and Charleston, S. C.

Leasing or sale of the huge storage depots scattered all over the country, one of the big ones being at Schenectady, N. Y.

Leasing or sale of the big powder plants in Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

Leasing or sale of the large munitions plants now in idleness, which were erected by the government during the war, generally on land not owned by the government.

Leasing of the $30,000,000 power plant constructed by the government during the war at Muscle Shoals, Ala. to extract nitrogen from the air.

Leasing or utilization of the cantonments not being used to more than one-tenth of their capacity.

Reduction of the general administrative expense of the War Department, considered to be scandalously high.

"I am strongly opposed," said Senator Wadsworth, "to any changes at the present session of Congress in the arm reorganization plan which we put through at the last session. Most of us in Congress who worked on that plan, and most of the army officers, think it should have a trial before it is tinkered with any further. Moreover, if any attempts are made to correct little things here and there the result might readily be that we would lose ground instead of gaining."

"But the administrative expenses of the War Department can be cut sharply and they will be beyond doubt in the appropriation bills. We can save a tremendous amount of money for the taxpayers on that without reducing the size of effectiveness of the army in the slightest degree. In the two years since the armistice Congress has lopped off exactly $1,000,000,000 from the appropriations asked by the War Department. But there is nothing further to be saved in that direction without cutting down the strength of the army to a point we think too low."

"On the administrative side, however, the expenses are still very much too high, and they must be pruned. The cost of running the department administering these big properties the department acquired during the war is absurdly high."

The semi-centennial of woman suffrage in Wyoming, the first state to give women the right to vote, is to be celebrated on December 10. The first voter is said to have been a 70-year-old woman, who voted on her way to the baker's, and went to the polls with a yeast pitcher in one hand and the ballot in the other.

The apothecary profession was opened to women in Holland in 1870.

BIB MUSICAL SHOW COMING TO LEXINGTON SOON

Biggest Musical Show of the Year at Lexington Christmas Week.

The biggest musical attraction that has invaded this section since pre-war days is now en route from San Francisco and Los Angeles to New York. Theater-goers in this section will have an opportunity to see this attraction, the Marcus Show of 1920, during its engagement in Lexington at the Opera House, three night, Christmas matinee, starting Thursday, December 23rd.

There are nearly one hundred persons engaged. Many of these are the famous Marcus Peaches. There is a special orchestra and it requires a special train of three baggage cars and an equal number of Pullmans to transport the big organization.

Not in years has an attraction made such an unqualified hit on the Coast as that enjoyed by the Marcus Show. But few cities are being visited between the Coast and New York where the Marcus Show inaugurates its metropolitan engagement early next month.

In commenting on the attraction the San Francisco Examiner of September 21, had the following to say:

"A musical Revue with a sort of indoor circus tone and liveliness of action, the Marcus Show of 1920, won the approval of an audience that last night filled the Columbia."

Girls, gorgeous costumes and agreeable comedy are the features, and though it seem to have been the intention of the producers to give an advance impression that the show might engage the attention of the censor, if such an official still be among us, there was nothing to seriously warrant objection.

It must have cost the managers a lot of money to bring this big organization of girls out from the East with the higher railroad rates no win force. Considerable has been saved by doing away with tight, but this item alone cannot offset the increased transportation charges. There must be sixty or seventy people in the company being Klaw & Erlanger over the West.

Really, it is an astonishing show—that of Marcus, 1920.

After all, the girls and costumes, with the vivid and artistic lighting effects and stage pictures, such as The Birth of Venus, are what lend importance to the show. The costumes certainly are daring, and the girls have to be to wear them."

ON THE FARM IN KENTUCKY

Lexington, Ky.—"Helpful Hints for Tractor Owners" is the title of a new booklet just off the press at the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. Points to consider in purchasing a tractor, suggestions on operation and lubrication together with points to consider in operating the tractor in cold weather are discussed in detail in the booklet, which is written by E. G. Welch, of the Farm Engineering Extension Division. The publication may be obtained free by writing the Extension Division, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

After conducting a hog feeding demonstration with a pure-bred Poland China and a scrub in cooperation with County Agent, John A. Hunter, Mr. Carver, an Allen county farmer has made the statement, "No more scrubs for me." Mr. Carver fed the two animals, which were both raised by him and were the same age, out of the same trough using the same feed for 60 days. At the end of that time, the pure-bred had gained 125 pounds while the scrub animal had put on only 54 pounds of pork.

Results of the corn club work conducted in Hart county under the direction of County Agent J. S. Pullen, show that the yields on all plots were higher than the general county average for corn. On plot yielded more than 90 bushels per acre.

With the assistance of County Agent John A. Hunter of Allen county, Mr. A. L. Moore, an Allen county farmer, now has running water from one of the best springs in the county running through his barn ad out to his house. Previous to the installation of the new water system, Mr. Moore carried water 200 yards to the house for years.

A REAL CHRISTMAS PRESENT.

The holiday season with its joys and its problems is upon us. What shall we do to add to the happiness of the occasion? Each one of us would like not only to wish our friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, but to give them one. We cannot do this by means of ill-considered presents. Thoughtless gifts cause the January ash can to bulge with debris. Only when our gifts have lasting meaning do they carry the true message of good-will which is the spirit of real giving.

We can give happiness and contentment and safety for the future as well as pleasure for the moment. Such gifts are within reach of all. They are to be found in the Savings Securities of the United States Government. From the 25 cent Thrift Stamp to the $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificate, they will carry with them not only the greetings of the season but happiness for years to come. In presenting the child a card with one thrift stamp affixed, you bestow not only a present but a habit which will grow in value as the days pass, for he will wish to fill the card. That little gift will have grown wonderfully before another Christmas comes around, and the recipient will be on the way to a life of independence.

In recommending these lasting gifts the Savings Division of the Treasury

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Maysville People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Dry after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys, assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by your neighbors in Maysville. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 W. Second St., Maysville, says: "At times, my back has become weak and lame and has ached across my kidneys. My kidneys have been irregular in action and I have had dizzy spells and headaches. I have always used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wood & Son's Drug Store, and they have never failed to relieve these complaints."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Holliday had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

does not suggest that a single American curtail his Christmas giving. It suggests only that he broaden it to include this present which will bring future well-being to those he loves.

Thrift Stamps, Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates will be on sale throughout the year 1921. In continuing the sale of Government securities the Government is giving the opportunity to every man, woman and child in the land through the coming year to enjoy the happiness, prosperity and contentment which is found in financial independence and security for the future.

GENERAL FIGHT

IN ROCKCASTLE.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Dec. 14. — A general fight was waged Sunday at Brush Creek, seven miles east of here. The report was that some fifteen or twenty men were drunk and had engaged in a general fight.

Officers from here were rushed to the scene.

There had been bad feeling among some alleged factions in that neighborhood.

Information today is that no one was killed.

Three men accused of shooting during the battle were brought to Mt. Vernon and landed in jail.

MANY TUBERCULAR

CATTLE ARE DESTROYED.

Frankfort, Dec. 14. — The fight of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry to eradicate tuberculosis among cattle in Kentucky during the last eleven months has cost the state and Federal governments approximately $39,093.71, according to figures given out at the office of Dr. W. F. Biles, who is in charge of the work in this state. Three hundred and twenty-one blooded animals were killed during the eleven-month period. Cattle tested totaled 13,923.

Red-Blooded Men and Women Know
What They Want To Do And Do It.

If may be you are just recovering from a sick spell—or may be your system is run down and your blood so weak that you are in a poor shape to resist infection—

But if you don't feel and look robust you are not robust. Such state is often due to weak blood, not enough red blood cells, a condition known as anemia.

The best remedy for anemia (bloodlessness) with its low mental and physical vigor is Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan supplies the weak, watery blood with the very elements it needs to put new life into it. It repairs, re-creates, and re-builds the exhausted blood, the vital fluid of health and life. Try Pepto-Mangan if you are "run-down." It cannot harm you—it will certainly help you unless you have some deep-seated chronic disease requiring the physician's care. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. For sale at all druggists. —Advertisement.

CORK IN RUINS AFTER FIRES AND STREET FIGHTING

Ireland's Second City is Now Great Ruins Resembling France During the Great World War—Military In Control.

London, Dec. 14. — With Cork under complete control of the military, the government prepared today to meet attacks elsewhere in Ireland.

There were indications that members of the Irish Republican army were ready for assaults on crown forces in counties bordering on Ulster.

In fighting yesterday the Irish office reported today one policeman was killed and seven police and soldiers wounded. Three Sinn Feiners were killed and a civilian wounded.

Cork, according to despatches today, "was like a city with its heart cut out."

The second city of Ireland has become a "staggering wilderness," it was said. Comparisons were made with the war ruins of France, piles of masonry and steel being spread out over five blocks in an apparently inextricable mass.

Reports today said incendiaries, after firing the building, raced through the streets, shooting rifles and revolvers. There was considerable looting, the reports said.

All day Sunday champagne from looted bars was sold at sixpence a quart.

HIGH WINDS DO

DAMAGE IN CITY.

Maysville and vicinity was visited by one of the strongest winds Monday night the oldest inhabitants can remember. Considerable damage was done about town although little damage is reported from the county. One side of a large art glass window in the Third Street M. E. church was blown out. A large plate glass window in the front of the Sherman Arm office in Second street was demolished, several globes on the city's white way lighting system were broken and roofs on several small buildings were torn off.

JURY VIEWS ALLEGED

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

The damage suit of H. B. Wood vs. the L. & N. Railroad Company was begun in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon and after swearing the jury, the court ordered them taken to the property for an inspection. Mr. Wood is asking damages in the sum of $500 from the railroad company claiming they have damaged his property in Forest avenue by digging ditch along their right of way which adjoins his property throwing water onto his land.

COLORED CITIZENS.

Mr. Edward Shafer and Miss May Crayten were married Monday afternoon by Rev. J. W. Hayden, pastor of Scott M. E. church.

The Young Peoples Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church, South, will meet tonight at 7:15 at the home of Miss Anna Shackelford in West Fourth street. A full attendance is desired.

UNUSUAL CONDITION

Texas Lady Suffered With Pulling and Aching Pains in Her Back,
Which Cardui Relieved.

Houston, Texas.—Mrs. C. D. Cook, of 1912 Whitty Street, this city, recently said: "About four months after my marriage, I . . . began suffering much pain, and knew that my condition was unusual, but couldn't just decide what was wrong. I had to go to bed . . ."

"All across my back and hips were pains, pulling and aching until I could hardly sit up. I stayed in bed a few days. My husband had heard of Cardui . . . so I told him he might get it. "After I had taken Cardui a few days, I was up. I took five bottles and haven't been in bed since for this trouble, for if I have the least symptoms of this trouble I get Cardui and take it in time."

"I have a number of friends who have used Cardui, and they recommend it very highly."

The experience of this Texas lady is similar to that related by thousands of other women. Cardui is purely vegetable, and mild and gentle in its action. Cardui may be the very medicine you need if suffering with womanly troubles. Take Cardui. NC-126

QUESTIONNAIRES ON TOBACCO CROP MAILED

Burley Growers' Association Will Wage Active Campaign for Membership.

The membership campaign of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association will be waged vigorously throughout the Burley district from now until Christmas, officials of the organization said today.

The whirlwind campaign in Fayette county, carried on last week, will be continued through this week, and a similar campaign will be conducted in Clark county. Campaigns are planned in Woodford and several other counties next week, it was said. President John W. Newman was scheduled to speak at Bardonia today and at Harbington Tuesday.

Mailing of questionnaires to several thousand growers to ascertain the acreage and condition of the crop in the Burley district was started today. The mail census is being conducted through the bureau of crop estimates of the Department of Agriculture and will be ready to announce early next week, it was said.

KENTUCKIANS IN HAITI.

Danville, Ky., Dec. 14. — Plans for a colony of Kentuckians in Haiti are well under way here, according to Joshua Jones, a local capitalist, who has just returned from the island republic, where he purchased 7,000 acres of land. The Haitian location was chosen after he had prospected through Cuba and San Domingo as well as Haiti, according to Mr. Jones. A number of cane mills and sugar factories will be operated.

OFFICER CATCHES SLAYER OF KENTUCKY SHERIFF.

Hannibal, Mo., Dec. 14. — Lee Ellison, a negro, wanted at Madisonville, Ky., for killing a sheriff who attempted to arrest him November 9, is under arrest here and has admitted his crime, according to A. E. Turner, the police officer who captured him. Turner arrested the same negro here eight years ago for breaking jail at Jacksonville, Ill.
